North Dakota's Gateway to Science Elects Board Officers

Bismarck – At its annual meeting on June 29, 2022, North Dakota's Gateway to Science Board of Directors elected officers to serve for the 2022-23 fiscal year. Officers elected are:

- President Doug Zenke, Starion Bank
- Vice President Chris Riedman, Director of Sacraments & Outreach for the Church of St. Joseph
- Secretary Amanda Wangler, Project Manager with Basin Electric
- Treasurer Karol Riedman, CPA, Chief Compliance Officer North Dakota University System.

Tom Hutchens, retired Mid-Dakota Clinic physician, was thanked for serving two years as President. He will continue to serve on the board.

Additional board members are Jason Anderson, Jeff Eslinger, Linda Gutensohn, Jeff Hruby, Kay Koch, Dan Leingang, Tim Lervick, Karie Mischel, Cam Thoroughman, Gregg Wiche, and Doug Zinke. Emeritus board members are Art Carlson, Brendan Joyce, Kevin Oberlander, David Sprynczynatyk, Scott Weigum and Scott Wild.

North Dakota's Gateway to Science is located in the Frances Leach High Prairie Arts & Science Complex, 1810 Schafer Street in Bismarck, ND. In addition to an interactive exhibits gallery, they offer STEM educational outreach programs serving people of all ages, including out-of-school time clubs, camps, and free family events. The hands-on gallery is open Monday through Thursday, 12:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m., Friday 12:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., and Saturday, 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. A new 43,000 square foot building is under construction with a planned opening in late 2022.
